

Beneficiary Designation

A beneficiary is any person, trust, or entity that is designated by the financial account holder to receive some portion of the assets in the account after he or she dies. A primary beneficiary is simply first in line to receive the assets in the account, while the contingent beneficiary is next in line.
